

Google Curriculum is endorsed by SACE

The Google curriculum comprises of 18 modules and teachers are able to work through modules that suit their immediate teaching and learning needs. GEG leaders conduct surveys in order to select the most appropriate modules for workshops. All modules have regular pre- and post assessments and completing these assessments is a great practice for the Google Educator Level 1 exams which is taken after the last module. All teachers who successfully complete all assessments or achieve the Google Educator Level 1 Exams are eligible to earn the 15 continuing professional development points (CTPD) endorsed by SACE.

Google Educator Group (GEG) news.....

GEG Cape Town-West Coast

GEG West Coast Leaders, Lindsey Durrell and Deïdré Bothma once again hosted an amazing “Relax with Google” workshop at Bosmansdam High School on the 15th August.

GEG Cape Town- West Coast Leaders
Deïdré Bothma & Lindsey Durrell

Approximately 50 teachers attended the fun-filled event that offered teachers tailor-made workshops based on their expressed needs. Multiple workshops were scheduled and Lindsey and Deidre sourced the help of other GEG Cape Town Central Leaders, Glenn Jones and Leighton Forbes to present workshops. Other workshops presenters included Leanne Steynberg, Andre Travis and Google Certified Trainers.

The programme included learning how to use Google Forms and Flubaroo for automated marking, Google Classroom, how to revolutionise writing and research using Google Docs, amazing Chrome extensions for Teachers and Apps for the 21st Century.

For more of the action catch the photos on the GEG Cape Town-West Coast community..

With thanks and appreciation to Cavan Lang who provided Technical Support, Mariette Stark who organized the venue at Bosmansdam and everyone who contributed to the success of the event!

GEG Gauteng- NorthCliff

GEG Leader, Tracy Cundill Tschohl, hosted the GEG Northcliff get together on Friday 21st August at the North West Christian School. This workshop focused efforts on finding videos and articles and including these into lesson plans for teaching and learning. All participants cited this event as very useful and of high quality and reported that they learnt a lot from the networking opportunities as well as how to plan effectively to include technology in the classroom. Tracy hosts a GEG event once a month on a Friday. For those teachers in the area who want to learn more about integrating technology into the classroom please contact us via our community

GEG East London

The GEG East London Chapter is having an informal get-together at Selborne Primary on Friday, 18 September. All teachers are welcome to attend from 14:15 to 16:00 to share ways in which you are using technology to enhance your teaching and in particular how you are using the Google Apps for Education in your classrooms. Email gegeastlondon@gmail.com for more information.

For more information....

Join our GEG community and stay in touch for news on the GEG programme as well as new Google developments in Education. For teachers who want to become GEG leaders in their communities and start volunteer GEG chapters please write to omashani@schoolnet.org.za for assistance or more information.

Omashani Naidoo
Google Educator Group Partner
SchoolNet SA
www.schoolnet.org.za

August 2015